Glass Doorknobs

Introduction

The first glass doorknobs known as “barbells” were made by Boston and Sandwich Glass Company on Cape Cod as early as 1840. By 1890 glass doorknobs were being mass produced and became popular. Our 1890 octagonal antique reproductions are made from original doorknobs dating to this time period.

During the 1920’s and 30’s, twelve pointed fluted glass doorknobs were also sold. They can be found in many American Bungalows up until 1950.

The best reproductions have ferrules made of solid cast and machined brass. Our bright doorknobs reflect light with fire and our antique doorknobs reflect light more like true antiques.
